

Counter-fraud

Sedgwick’s legal services are fully integrated with our leading counter-fraud solutions. Our unparalleled systems and data set, established through more than 15 years in the counter-fraud arena, are shared by our handlers, investigators and lawyers. This helps us detect fraud and work with clients to prevent repeat and organised fraud.

Sedgwick engages with industry bodies and law enforcement agencies to ensure we are horizon-scanning for the latest innovations in fraud and counter-fraud. We receive a steady stream of current information and insight on the greater issues facing the counter-fraud industry, which drives better-informed decisions and advice to clients. We also utilise Sedgwick’s internal experts across motor and property, including forensic science and accounting, for added support as needed.
